

GREAT REFORM FOR RUSSIANS

Liberals Formulate Demands for Representative, Elective Law Makers.

AN ERA IN NATIONAL EVOLUTION

The Great Convention of St. Petersburg the First of Its Kind Ever Held in The White Czar's Domain.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 22.—The delegates to the zemstvo congress, by a vote of 105 to 3, specifically declared in favor of an elective parliament for Russia. The declaration is as follows: "In order to secure the proper development of the life of the state and the people, it is imperatively necessary that there be regular participation of national representatives, sitting as an especially elected body, to make laws, regulate the revenue and expenditure, and control the legality of the actions of the administration."

The above is the final form of the declaration of the zemstvo representatives in favor of the election of a body not merely to participate in legislation, as at first reported, but to be entrusted with the framing of the laws of the empire.

The meeting also adopted a declaration in favor of granting general amnesty to political offenders imprisoned or exiled by administrative order.

Completed Program Is Signed. This completed program, declaring the necessity of the participation by the people in the government, was signed by 102 zemstvo presidents, including thirty presidents of provincial zemstvo committees out of thirty-two who attended the meeting.

The two who did not sign the memorial were not present when signatures were called for. They represent the provinces of St. Petersburg and Kherson.

The memorial will be presented to the minister of the interior, Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky, by a delegation composed of the most prominent participants in the meeting.

The zemstvo meeting will now proceed with the discussion of the remainder of the program, which, although it directly concerns zemstvo work, is of minor importance.

FIND MAN WHO HEARD THE FATAL SHOT FRIDAY

Chicago Police Discover New Witness in the Bate Murder, Who Is Considered Important.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—John Hennes, a young farmer residing south of Le Mont, claims he was a witness to the mysterious murder of William Bate, the chauffeur, in the automobile last Friday night. He says he saw a man on the rear seat lean over and fire the shot. He believes there were two men on the rear seat. This, together with the statement of Peter Sewhouse who heard the shots fired, minutes later, two miles from Hennes' farm, leads the police to believe two murders were committed. Detectives have traced a man answering the description of the hunted "Dove" from the scene of the murder on Joliet and thence to Morris, where the hunt is being prosecuted today.

DEER NOT SHOT IN ANY GREAT NUMBER

The Year Does Not Seem Good for Hunting in the Northern Woods as Usual.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 22.—Deer are not so plentiful in Wisconsin this year than in 1903 or else the hunters are having bad luck. Nine days more remain for the open season of 1904 and up to the present time only 840 tons of deer shipped have been received in the office of the game warden in this city. Last year in the entire season about 6,000 deer were shipped. Probably twice as many deer have been shipped as have been killed but the tags have not yet reached Madison. The non-resident hunters have taken about 90 deer out of the state. Most of the hunters from outside the state are from Iowa, Illinois and Minnesota. Sawyer, Vilas and Marinette counties are the best places for hunting deer.

ENDEAVOR TO REDEEM YOUNG MEN FOR CHURCH

Brooklyn Pastors Adopt Novel Methods to Secure Attendance of Those Who Have Gone Astray.

New York, Nov. 22.—The misdeeds of hundreds of young men connected with well-known families in the Bedford section of Brooklyn, which began some years ago by the formation of the "Bedford gang," has caused the inauguration of a remarkable religious campaign for the purification of the youths. The first night of the "campaign of evangelization" began with a street parade, in which tramped 2,000 men with banners, with a band of the Twenty-third regiment playing hymns. Ministers from fifty churches of all Protestant denominations were in attendance and many of them made short addresses at a big street meeting.

The street corner meeting ended; the brass band again headed the procession, and it marched to the Central Presbyterian church, where a meeting for men had been called. The church has a capacity of 1,500, and every seat was taken and the closed doors held out hundreds. Six ministers made short addresses, telling the purposes of the movement, which, it was announced, will continue throughout the winter.

CHICAGO WILL GIVE A SITE

Tenders Large Tract of Land for Naval Training Station, to The Government.

THE PROPOSITION IS IN WRITING

Commercial Clubs of The Western Metropolis Act—Congressman Foss Made a Speech.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Graeme Stewart, acting on behalf of the Commercial Club, the Merchants' Club, and the Chicago Commercial Association, threw a bomb into the camp of the representatives of states contending for a naval training station on the great lakes when he offered to present to the government, free of cost, at Lake Bluff, a site consisting of 172 acres of land. This proposition was made in writing after an effective speech by Representative Foss, who made a broad gauge argument in favor of locating a station where it would be most useful to the navy and to the country.

Muskegon Makes Offer. Notwithstanding this generous offer, which will cost the Chicago organizations about $175,000, there is still considerable doubt as to what the decision of the commission will be, as representatives of Muskegon have offered a site of 300 acres of land without cost to the government. This was a secret offer and did not become known until the hearing was adjourned.

Mr. Stewart notified the commission that he would like to reserve from fifty to seventy-five feet of the land along the tracks of the Northwestern railway so as to provide for the extension of Sheridan drive. When the drive way is continued it will skirt the reservation offered to the government for a naval training station at a point a little north of Pettibone creek, and will cross from the Northwestern tracks to the lake shore and then continue to Waukegan. BUTCHERS QUIT WORK AT BIG CHICAGO PLANT

Claim That Men Are Being Discharged for Union Affiliation and Trouble May Spread.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 22.—The cattle butchers of the Hammond Packing company plant at the stock yards struck Monday noon. The reason given by President Michael Donnelly and other leaders of the butcher workmen's union was that the company had harassed the members of the labor organization persistently and thus had violated the understanding by which last summer's struggle was ended.

Grievances of a similar nature are declared to exist against the other packing concerns. They are not adjusted promptly the union men say the fight will be carried all through the stock yards. The workers go into the contest saying the conditions have become "intolerable" and that they "have nothing to lose and everything to gain."

The immediate cause of the without was the refusal of the officials to reinstate John Schick, for nearly twenty years a butcher in the plant. Last Saturday Donnelly, Vice President William M. Stirling, and Secretary Homer D. Call of the union called on Supt. John M. Warner of the plant for an explanation. Mr. Warner confined himself to saying that changes were being made in the working force every day.

"Then I must assume," Donnelly said, "that Schick was discharged because of his activity in the union interest."

Donnelly went to see Mr. McClean about the matter. Mr. McClean said the force was to be reduced, and that others would have to be laid off.

"Is not that strange," Donnelly asked, "when you are in the midst of the busy season and have been working overtime?"

Donnelly said he must conclude that Schick was not wanted because of his union affiliations, and that the only course left for the labor organization was to strike. If the matter had to be fought out, Mr. McClean answered, the present time was as good as any. Donnelly agreed with him.

MISS LEAH J. HAILE WAS MENTIONED IN THE CASE

Janesville Girl Drawn Into the Bate Murder in Chicago—Is Entirely Innocent.

Through the murder of William Bate, a Chicago chauffeur on Friday night last, Miss Leah J. Haile of this city has been drawn into prominence by the finding of letters in her handwriting on the dead man's person. It was through a telephone message to The Gazette office yesterday afternoon that this fact was first learned but through a hope that the police had struck a wrong clue, nothing was said regarding it in the paper. Last evening, however, the Chicago papers were full of the story and the letters written by Miss Haile to the deceased were reprinted and the question asked "Who is Miss Haile?" To add to the mystery a young man arrived from Chicago and refusing to tell his business beyond the fact he was here to clear Miss Haile, interviewed Mrs. Rich, where she rooms, and several of her friends in the city. Telegraphic messages came from Chicago asking that her Chicago address be given and something about her.

Not Believed
Miss Haile has many friends in Janesville who are prone to discredit any connection she may have with the deceased beyond a friendship. Mr. James Scott, in whose office she has a desk, states positively that he is sure she has no connection with the case. She did not leave Janesville until Saturday noon and must have arrived in Chicago about the same time the evening papers in that city and The Gazette here announced the murder. Friday night she was at her boarding place after having spent the afternoon at Milton, where she drove with Attorney Charles Pierce to take a deposition. In Chicago she is the guest of Mrs. Otto Trautwein, 6037 Indiana avenue, and the special reason for her visit there at this time was to witness the performance of Kyrie Bellew, a member of whose company is a friend of hers. That she could have had any connection with the crime is disproved entirely and her friends are much annoyed over the publicity that the affair has been given. The picture published as found on Bate's body was not that of Miss Haile.

A Chicago Paper
A Chicago paper in speaking of Miss Haile's connection with the case prints the following account:
"Leah J. Haile, the young woman whose trifling letters to Bate were found in the pockets of the dead chauffeur, was discovered in Chicago yesterday, visiting at the home of Mrs. J. Otto Trautwein, 6037 Indiana avenue. Miss Haile arrived in Chicago Saturday from Janesville, Wis., where she is employed as a stenographer. As soon as she reached Chicago the first news of the mysterious murder of Bate was being heralded over the city and Miss Haile recognized at once that the unfortunate victim was the young man to whom she had written two letters from her home in Janesville, Wis., after meeting him last September.
"Never dreaming that she would become involved in the investigation of the mystery through the letters she had written to the young man, Miss Haile eagerly sought for information in every development of the case. When she read that the letters were being withheld by the coroner the young woman became apprehensive and when these letters were published, among them her own, Miss Haile was overcome and it was several hours before she was able to go to police headquarters to explain that she had no connection with the mystery.
"Attired in a black tailor-made suit and heavily veiled, Miss Haile entered the office of Lieutenant Rohan shortly before 7 o'clock last evening. She was accompanied by J. Otto Trautwein, her friend's husband.
"Lieutenant," said Mr. Trautwein, "this is Miss Haile, whose name has unfortunately been dragged into this case, and she has come to tell you all she knows of the young man, and that she knows nothing of the murder, and could not have been connected with it in any manner."
"Lieutenant Rohan ushered the young woman and her companion into his private office. Miss Haile began to deplore the manner in which her name had been dragged into the mystery and the publication of her letters, and also photographs, which she declared were not her pictures at all. She was extremely nervous and with difficulty restrained her tears. She was thinking of her fiancé in Janesville, N. Y., and what he would think of her when he read of the terrible

A COMPARISON OF WISCONSIN'S CROP

Of Tobacco Leaf with Other Districts as to Average Yield and Average Per Cent.

According to the annual statement of the department of agriculture recently given out Wisconsin stands third in the list of leaf growing districts as to the average yield per acre and fourth as to the average quality per cent. New England stands highest in both averages, having raised 1,656 pounds per acre and Wisconsin 1,284; the average quality per cent. of the New England crop was 110, while that of Wisconsin was 92. In the former average the Pennsylvania crop also is ahead of the Wisconsin, while in the latter both New York and Ohio-Miami valley have higher averages. This statement of the department is based upon the views of their correspondents in the field. The following table shows the average production in pounds per acre and the quality of the crop:

Types	Average yield per Acre, quality.	Average Per Cent.
1. Clear Types	Pounds. Per ct.
New England	1,656	110
New York	1,145	92
Pennsylvania	1,289	87
Ohio-Miami valley	9,222	97
Wisconsin	1,284	92
Georgia and Florida	750	89

In a general discussion of the conditions of the crops throughout the United States the following is said of the Wisconsin crop:
"The average production per acre is slightly less than in 1903; there are some reports of shortage in the crop, but it is difficult to estimate at this time, as the tobacco has not yet been taken from the poles. In the northern part of this section the quality of the crop is very fine; in the southern part the crop is sound, but not as early as that of 1903. The early crops are very good, yielding 1,200 to 1,400 pounds per acre; the later crops will be poor and short in yield, yielding over 900 pounds per acre."

SCOTT'S EMULSION
We don't put Scott's Emulsion in the class of advertised cure-alls; it doesn't belong there. We hardly like to use the word "cure" at all, but we are bound to say that it can be used for a great many troubles with great satisfaction. Its special function is to repair the waste of the body when the ordinary food does not nourish, and this means that it is useful in many cases which are indicated by wasting.

VARSITY TEAM IS IN FINE SHAPE

Is Ready for the Struggle with Chicago on Thursday Next.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
To stand on a hill overlooking Camp Randall at Madison and watch the daily secret practice of the University of Wisconsin football eleven in preparation for the Chicago game, Thursday gives one the idea that the Wisconsin team is far and away the best it has been at any time this season, not accepting the "pink of condition" that prevailed just previous to the Michigan game, when Coach Curtis and Cochems were predicting a victory over the Maroons. Then to listen to the coaches giving out the daily "dope" to the half-dozen newspaper men who go after the "official report of the day's practice" gives an entirely different and contradictory notion. The truth is that Wisconsin today is greatly improved. Coach Curtis and Cochems are not as violently at outs as supposed and what bickering remains between them are not interfering with the team work. When the coaches are apart they "shout" each other. Cochems says Curtis doesn't know anything about football and Curtis' manner and speech regarding his assistant indicates that he believes Cochems tried to take advantage of his brief indisposition and project himself to the head of the department, to the humiliation of Curtis and Trainer O'Dea. Out on the field, however, Curtis works manfully with the varsity team and Cochems works hard and apparently conscientiously with the scrubs. The prospect is good or bad depending upon affairs at Chicago. Wisconsin will surely present a strong game against the Maroons.

Coach Curtis daily gives out a list of casualties. Reap hurts his hand. Fleischer injures his back and will be unable to punt. Bush has a return of "this old side trouble." Bertke and others hurt their legs. If all these reported injuries were as bad, half an hour would be enough to report them. The idea is that Chicago must be confident and Wisconsin must be able to spring a surprise. That this is the plan of the Badger coach was shown in an interview yesterday with Donovan, the Badger guard, in the office of State Superintendent Cary in the capitol. Donovan was chided with being the only player not "officially reported" on the hospital list and was told that no one believed the "wolf stories" being given out by the coaches. "Well, the newspaper fellows ought to help and not knock. How do you suppose we are going to surprise Chicago with a strong team, with good interference and with a new system if the correspondents would send out the reports of injuries and tip off that we are employing an entirely new policy of play and new formations? Chicago will be whipped if we surprise them, but the fellows ought not to give the game away."

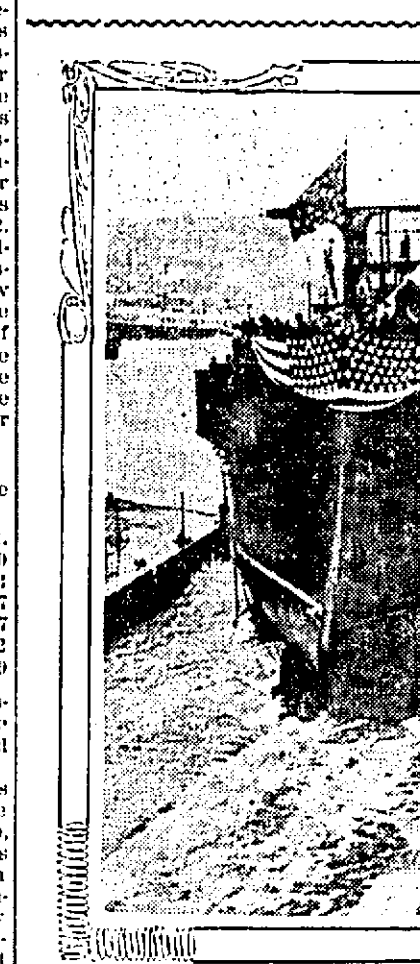

It is not giving away any valuable feature of legitimate football to record that Wisconsin has taken a wonderful brace in the last three days. It is true that some players have been bumped pretty hard in the scrimmages and some difficult new formations and plays are employed, but the team will be in tolerable good shape for Chicago and assuredly will put up a better contest than probably most of the midway players and followers are expecting.

BUSY AUTUMN FOR BARB WIRE WORKS

Complete Force at Work—Twenty New Machines—Will Be Installed in Factory.

Contrary to all precedents this fall is a busy one at the Barb Wire Works. This is the natural slow season in the wire fence business and in all former years business at the Janesville Barb Wire Works has been slack at this time. A complete force of men is now at work and each machine is turning out its full capacity of fencing six days in the week. Twenty new machines for making square mesh woven wire fencing have been purchased and are now in the storehouse. These will be installed in the factory and the force of men employed will be increased. The new storehouse that the firm contemplated building on the west side of the present structure will not be built till next spring, if built at all. There is plenty of room in the addition built to the factory proper in the last few years for all the new machinery and the capacity of the storehouse will not be greatly overtaxed when the machinery has been removed to the factory.

A new-style observation car which leaves little to be desired in the way of luxury has been sent out by Harney & Smith, Dayton, O. It is called the "Composite-Observation." Not a convenience is lacking that will contribute to the comfort of the traveler. But, in addition, the smoking part of the car is unique. The composite idea comes in from the fact that the car is a smoking and observation car in one, but so arranged that not even a whiff of tobacco smoke can reach any in the car but those who are actually engaged in the indulgence. An unusually elaborate buffet is a striking feature. The new cars, two of which—the "Wannabings" and the "Winnabagos"—have been placed in commission on the Milwaukee & St. Paul's overland limited train which runs between Chicago and Omaha, are splendid pieces of workmanship. Their interior is finished in highly polished mahogany. They are lighted with both gas and electricity and have electric fans to regulate the temperature in hot weather. In addition they have every luxury and convenience known to twentieth century railroad travel.

THANKSGIVING DAY COMES VERY EARLY

Peculiar Freak of Calendar—Origin of Custom Dates Back to Children of Israel.

Thanksgiving comes a day earlier in the month this year than for many years past, on account of a peculiar freak of the calendar. In fact, it is the earliest date it can come in the month. The custom of observing Thanksgiving day is reputed to be of very great antiquity, many asserting that it was borrowed from the Moslem law. Its origin in the United States, however, is due to the early settlers of New England. That it is celebrated always in November is due to the fact that the custom was imported into the United States from Holland, where the "Harvest Home" festival was observed there in that month. For a matter of convenience the governors of the New England states designated the last Thursday in November. Since the adoption of the holiday by congress this day has been universally observed throughout the United States, as a day on which to return thanks for the blessing of the year. Coming down to the present year and month the twenty-fourth day will be observed with great rejoicing and thanksgiving in all the homes and churches without restriction as to religion, faith or church affiliation. It is the one day of the year when all minds are centered on one purpose and it is a most beautiful custom.

Coming Attractions.

It is cause for congratulation that at last a play has been written that shows New England character without caricature. With few exceptions the New England men and women have been grossly misrepresented upon the stage and in books. The shrewd, simple hearted farmer and his conscientious, self-sacrificing sister, who as given the best years of her life to the comfort and happiness of others, having no time to find her own; these have been too long a target for ridicule and misrepresentation.

Those who know the silent, self-denial, the quick sympathy, the generous sacrificing natures of these quaint descendants of the first makers of a new world will be glad to see them portrayed with fidelity. "The Village Postmaster" in the play is real. The story is a true one and the characters have lived.

It will be the attraction at the Myer's grand on Thanksgiving afternoon and evening.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, November 22, 1864.—How Appointments Are Sometimes Made.—Gen. Scott in his autobiography furnishes a bit of gossip about appointments by the president. In February, 1823, Maj. Gen. Brown died; a new major general was to be appointed. Scott was the senior. But Mrs. Mason of Ancon Island, Georgetown, desired the appointment of Gen. Macomb, because he had promised a place on his staff to her son-in-law, Lieut. Cooper; then at Porters Monroe. Mrs. Mason induced Mrs. Ingraham to prevail upon Mr. Ingraham, then secretary of state, to persuade the president to appoint Macomb and this intrigue was successful. The Lieut. Cooper, who thus got his staff appointment, in order that Mrs. Mason might be near her daughter, his wife, is now the rebel adjutant general.

PUPILS AND PRINCIPAL AT OUTS

Recent Effort to Break Up Fraternities and Defy Instructor.

Muncie, Ind., Nov. 22.—Principal Wiles of the Muncie high school ordered pupils representing five school fraternities to remove all their class colors, ribbons and buttons. The pupils marched to school with their ribbons displayed conspicuously. The principal gave them the alternative of being expelled. Some removed the ribbons, while others refused.

Miss Mamie Lamont, daughter of a wealthy manufacturer, told all fraternity boys and girls to "stand pat." Those refusing to divest themselves of the colors dared the principal to remove them. They then left for their homes.

In many cases parents are upholding the students and will ask for the removal of Principal Wiles. The latter claims that he will obliterate every fraternity. Former Principal Irvin promoted the fraternities.

"JEFFERSONIAN PRINCIPLES."
The statement in review of the election which was issued on Sunday
by the Hon. Thomas E. Watson, late candidate for president of the People's party, defines with unerring accuracy the situation in which Mr.
Bryan has been left by the result of the campaign. Logically, the claims which the Nebraska statesman held to be sacred during the years of his own leadership bind him to respect the platform on which he earnestly advocated the election of Judge Parker and the continuing authority of the party organization which he has loyally recognized since the St. Louis convention. Whether or not he will seek to escape from the position to which he has thus been consigned by the course of events remains to be seen. Mr. Watson seems to be convinced that he could not escape
if he would, but that is a rather hazardous conclusion. The logic of the Populist leader is sound, but Dejocrite practice is erratic.

It is to be regretted that Mr. Watson, when he turns from personalities to formulate a programme of opposition to Republicanism, can think of nothing more definite and rational to say than that the first and sole requirement is a reassertion of "Jeffersonian principles." Mr. Watson is not by nature given to imitation. He has a mind of his own and has thought to some purpose. Yet in this address to the public, which he must regard as important and presumably designed as a keynote of a radical propaganda, he feebly resorts to a phrase which has ceased to convey any meaning or communicate any inspiration to the multitude. He might, perhaps, find some excuse in the fact that, unlike the great majority of those who are in the habit of talking about Jeffersonian principles, he has actually studied the character and career of Jefferson, and that the stock phrase which he employs corresponds to a real image in his own mind. But, even so, he thought to have remembered the vast vacuity which he was endeavoring to fill.

For years every democratic platform has represented itself as a perfect expression of "Jeffersonian principles." It might be a flat contradiction of all that has gone before and would follow after, but that made no difference—it was pure Jeffersonian, and the party orators on a thousand stumps have vociferously proclaimed it to be an authentic exposition of the faith once delivered to the saints.
From Suizer, the vox et praeterea nil of the "peopul," to Shepard, the man of keen intellect and an unchartered political conscience, the spokesmen of Democracy in all its grades of comparative sense and unqualified foolishness have pledged their undying word for it that there exists no truer disciples of Jefferson than Cleveland and Hearst, Bryan and Ol-ney, Watson and Parker, Debs and Cockran, Belmont and Tillman, Hill
Williams, Sheehan, Carlisle, McCar-ren, Hornblower and Gorman.

What can Mr. Watson hope to accomplish, where can he expect to arrive, by adopting the empty jargon of many a discordant platform and inglorious campaign as the countersign of a new and militant organization? The American people will never enlist under the banner of Jeffersonian principles until they are able at least to conjecture what it stands for.

he says regarding the probable retire-life owing to the republican victory in Missouri.

"I suppose," he said, "that the republican legislature of Missouri is bound to send a republican to the United States senate, but I would be pleased if partisanship could be forgotten long enough to retain in the public service a man who is as deserving as Senator Cockrell. His long experience, his ability, and attention to business, his high sense of public duty, and his standing as a citizen make him an invaluable pub-

"No man will be a greater loss to the public service than Senator Cock-him in politics I can say that I sin-

JANESVILLE'S PART IN D. A. R. MEETING

Four Ladies From This City Attended
Eighth Annual Convention
In Milwaukee.

Forty-six members of the Daughters of the American Revolution, representing eighteen states of the union, met in the green room of the Hotel Plister, Milwaukee, yesterday afternoon for the opening session of the eighth annual state convention of the organization. The room was decorated with yellow tulle and flags, and the program consisted of reports of state officers, Mrs. Walter Kemper, regent of the Milwaukee chapter, spoke in welcome, and Mrs. Frank H. Fargo, regent of the Lake Mills chapter, responded. Mrs. Thomas Hoyt Brown, Milwaukee, state regent, reported the general condition of the work in the state, saying that a new chapter has been formed this year at Antigo, and that one is in process of organization at Milton. A report of the Continental Hall committee was given by Mrs. Oden H. Peters of Janesville, state vice regent and chairman of the ways and means committee. Other Janesville ladies who attended were: Mrs. William G. Wheeler, Mrs. George Sutherland, and Miss Catharine R. Field. Of the three chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution Janesville failed to report. At the session last night strength of chapters was shown to be as follows by reports: Janesville, 53 members; Kenosha, 32; Lake Mills, 29; Waukesha, 39; Fond du Lac, 36; Port Koshong, 39; non-resident; Madison, 71; La Crosse, 45; Oshkosh, 52; Stevens Point, 47; Portage, 40; Waupun, 34; Antigo, 21; Milwaukee, 208. Chapters at Ripon, Sheboygan, Plymouth, Berlin, De Pere, and Ashland were discussed. The final session opened at 10 o'clock this morning, with election of officers at the close.

NEWSPAPER FROM PANAMA REPUBLIC

Received at The Gazette Office—Independence Day on November 3.

Through the kindness of Miss Mary Humphrey, there have come to our desk several issues of the Star and Herald, a newspaper published at Panama, Republic of Panama. The issue of November 3 contains a congratulatory editorial under the caption "The Third of November," which opens as follows: "The infant Republic of Panama today celebrates the first year of its thus far happy existence as an independent and sovereign nation—free from the odious fetters of tyranny, oppression, misrule, and spoliation, of which during many long and miserable years it was a long suffering victim under Colombia's rule of everlasting political intrigue—and enters on the celebration of the first anniversary of its Natal Day with the joyous enthusiasm born of the happiness and prosperity general throughout the length and breadth of this nation's territory." The paper is a four page daily with the first printed in English and the other three in Spanish. The subscription price is $2 a month, payable in advance, the single copies selling at 10 cents.

THE FARMER HAS CAUSE TO REJOICE

Favorable Crop Conditions Will Make
Thursday a Day of True Thanksgiving.

Farmers here have delivered sugar beets is still the main work of the beet growers, though in some districts the farmers have finished hauling. Complaints are general that cars for the shipment are hard to secure; in fact they cannot be obtained in sufficient numbers to accommodate the great demand of the beet growers. Without a doubt unless a guarantee can be given that this hindrance can be obviated many farmers who have grown beets this year will refuse to contract next year. This seems to be the only cause for complaint and the yields have been very satisfactory.

Corn has cured much better than was even hoped for a month ago. Larger ears are shown than usual and many farmers boast that some ears weigh two pounds each. The prices on this product are still high.

Live Stock Hogs are moving to the market in prime condition. Improved methods of both breeding and feeding have brought excellent results. Many pigs six months of age are weighing two hundred and fifty pounds each. Truly here are the mortgage lifters.

Not All Drunk: In last evening's

Gazette there appeared a dispatch from Madison stating that a football team from this city played in Madison Sunday and disgraced Janesville by their drunkenness and disorderly conduct during and after the game.

Several of the members of the team who are total abstainers would like to have it stated that they were not under the influence of liquor and touched none while in the Capital city. The young man referred to in "the throwing over the fence" incident and the other, his companion, were in no way connected with the team. According to the players, they "hit their way" up the night before and were drunk when the players arrived. "Janesville was not disgraced by the team but by those from here who went to witness the contest," is the statement of those who were not drunk.

For Organ Recital: One hundred people from Milton and the Junction will arrive in Janesville this evening to attend the organ recital to be given by President Daland of Milton college and Miss Edith Crandall at the Congregational church. The concert is given for the benefit of the Memorial hall. A special car will take the visitors back to their homes, leaving between half-past ten and eleven o'clock.

BROTHER'S PRANK PROVED SERIOUS

Is Shot While Making Believe Rob
His Brother's Henroost,
by His Brother.

A story comes from Leyden that is meagre in detail but graphic in description. It would appear from the reports from this village that recently a young man named Frusher and a companion were filled with shot by Frusher's brother, who mistook them for chicken thieves who were trying to loot his hen-coop. As the story is repeated the elder Frusher owns a farm a few miles from Leyden and had driven into the village. While he was gone his brother and friend thought it would be a good joke to rob his hen roost and make him think thieves did it. While they were conveying the chickens to a place of refuge the elder Frusher returned and seeing the men at his chicken coop in the dusk secured his gun and opened fire. It is reported that both the men were severely injured, but that it is now thought they are out of danger.

WILL FILE THE FORMAL PROTEST

Smoker at the Golf Links This Evening—Many Will Be Present.

Much interest has been aroused in the smoker of the Mississippi Golf club to be held this evening. As has been before stated, Governor La Follette and ex-Governors Hoard and Peck had been on the list of invited guests. Mr. Peck wrote a letter regretting he was unable to be present, and this morning letters were received from Governor La Follette, private secretary, John Hanna, from ex-Governor Hoard, E. M. Hyzer of Milwaukee, and Frank Peckin of Chicago. Mr. Hanna writes that the governor will be unable to be present and thanks the club for the invitation. Mr. Hyzer is forced to be in Green Bay but wishes the club a good time. Governor Hoard also cannot come, but E. R. Peckin writes he will be here on the six-thirty-five. Other guests from away are also expected and the best smoker ever held is anticipated. The committee in charge wish it announced that those who have not yet paid their dollar requisite to cover the expenses may do so this evening at the grounds. The houses will meet all cars, starting at seven o'clock, and will be ready to bring the members downtown after the fun is over. A delicious lunch and many new and unique entertainments have been planned and several surprises have been prepared for the pleasure of the guests. Each member has the privilege of bringing one member.

MAYOR CROLIUS OF JOLIET GETS INTO THE MYSTERY

Reported Last Evening That He Had Much Wanted "Dove" in His Clutches.

Mayor Crollius of Joliet who once lived in Janesville proceeded to take a hand in the Chicago murder mystery last evening. He issued a statement to the effect that "we have known the whereabouts of the mysterious 'Mr. Dove' since 7 o'clock last evening. His arrest is only a matter of three or four hours." In the meantime the police are pursuing "Dove" in other quarters today. Mr. Crollius was slightly in error.

MAY CONNECT CITY WITH MILWAUKEE

Electric Line Projected From Kenosha to Lake Geneva That Could Possibly Connect with Beloit

Finally after a great deal of talking and planning Janesville may have connections by electric road with Lake Geneva and Milwaukee. These would not be direct but both would go through Kenosha. That city is connected with Milwaukee by an interurban line and a road is now projected to Lake Geneva. A franchise will be asked from the city council of Kenosha and though the route of the line is not definitely known it may come near Beloit, so that connections could easily be made.

Green Bay Gazette: They opposed to the administration on the other hand insist that in order to live up to the law it will be necessary to call a special election about Jan. 2 to vote for senatorial nominees. Just why the administration is endeavoring to evade this provision of the law on the first opportunity for its application the measure was advocated in all sincerity. Should the question go to the legislature direct there is a question but that a deadlock will be the result after many ballots are cast. On the other hand if a special election be called the people will settle the question promptly and definitely. There will be no deadlock and while their decision may not entirely suit the administration people it certainly would be satisfactory to the people. Give the new law a trial.

Limbs Badly Swollen.

Dr. M. M. Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.

Dear Sir:—About 4 years ago I began to suffer with severe pains in my back making it impossible for me to do any work.

My limbs were swollen badly and I was troubled with an affection of the heart also, all coming as I suppose from kidney trouble.

I had tried several kidney remedies with little result, not satisfactory.

I asked Mr. Dorrance, the druggist who handles your goods here and he recommended your Kidney and Backache Cure saying he had sold it for several years very successfully.

I took 4 bottles and the swelling has all gone from my limbs and my heart trouble completely cured.

I have recommended this Remedy to a large number of my acquaintances, with the same result.

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS AND — OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or official names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name—"Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.
